BELL HIGH SCHOOL
OTTAWA ONTARIO

Dedicated--To--Our--

At the outset, I would like to congratulate the editors and all their co-workers on the successful completion of the school yearbook. I know from experience that theirs has been a long, lonely and sometimes frustrating task, but I also know that they will appreciate this book more in ten or twenty years than perhaps they do now.

So much was new last September! There was a new Board of Education, a new Principal, a new Vice-Principal, more than twenty new teachers and so many new ideas competing for attention in the world of education. It was clear that nothing but the greatest of good will on all sides would enable us to get through the year and accomplish our tasks of teaching and learning. And we found it. Sometimes we improvised new ways of doing things, and the students accepted them with good grace; sometimes we let the old ways run their course, and the students showed co-operation and leadership and made them work. Teachers took on all kinds of jobs and carried them out uncomplainingly. Everywhere, I have been met with courtesy and understanding.

I hope that it has been an equally fruitful year for everyone in the school. I am looking forward eagerly to the next one.

Her MacLean

The problem of running a high school such as Bell is a very complex one and can only be done by receiving the co-operation of all people in the school - the teaching staff, and most of all the students.

As a new Vice-Principal - your third one in six months - I have found nothing but co-operation from all sides.

As in all situations, there is a small group trying to ruin things for the rest of you, but this is a fact of life that we must learn to live with. Dissent is good - even desirable if we are to improve our schools and our institutions in our society. You do not improve things by destroying them - unless you have something better to replace them.

Many of you want to "do your own thing" - this is fine but it can't be done all the time and at other people's expense. The day that you realize that there are many things you must do even though you don't enjoy them is the day you will be starting to mature.

Best of luck in all your ventures and at doing your own thing.

Head Boy and Girl

This year, starting fresh with a new administration and Students' Council, proved to be a somewhat experimental year for Bell. We tried some new and some old ideas with varying success.

The new administration was headed by Mr. Maclean and Mr. Robillard who helped us a great deal. Without this help our many projects would not have succeeded. As it is I think all of us gained some experience. Although being Head Boy or Head Girl is not always fun, it poses a challenge to those who take on these titles, and is also a great honour. We would like to extend our Best Wishes to our fellow students in the coming years and in their future endeavours.

GRADS

13A

STEPHEN CAVELL:

Steve, who'll never recover from passing into grade 13, won't tell his nickname, but ask anyone who knows him! His activities at Bell have been innumerable (?). From MacDonald High in Quebec, he plans to join the masses at Carleton after Bell and eventually go to law school. He likes Mother's apple pie and anything else that meets the qualifications, but Miss Thibeault's poignant remarks frustrate him. HIS remarks (I'm tired today) probably frustrate Mrs. King!

BRUCE CONNELL:

Bruce doesn't say much (on yearbook write-ups anyhow) but we did find out that he plans to go to St. Pat's next year for arts. He's been on the football team and has been a wrestling champ ever since he came to Bell from Lindsay High in Montreal. Do you still want to be Quebec's first President, Bruce?

PETER DESROCHES:

Pete is a Saguanay Valley High emigrant who spends his time at Bell with intramural sports, classes and trying to outsmart the teachers. He'll be at Carleton next year. Wherever there's peanut-butter and popsicles, there'll also be Peter. (Peanut butter and popsicles?) His favourite is a girl student from Gloucester called Annette. He doesn't like people who call him a snob. It's all right Peter — we know you're not!

WILLIAM FRANCE:

Willy LaFrance claims it's better late than never. He came from Emanuel G.S., London, England, to participate in Senior Soccer, Badminton, Key Club, World Affairs Club and B.A.A. at Bell. His plans for the future include Social Work at university and later travel. He likes his ADIDAS running shoes because he never loses when he's wearing them! That he passed grade 11 math will never fail to astound him.

SIMONE GELDART:

Sam came to Bell from G.S. Henry in Toronto, and has been active in floor hockey, softball and track. She spends her spare time sewing, swimming, and riding. She's glad she doesn't have to share a room with her sister anymore and says that all cars should have a radio. Que sera, sera is her philosophy. We hope that que sera's to you, Simone, is happy!

RUTH GRANT:

Ruth has taken part in several sports and Rochester exchange groups. Her ambition is to be a success and we hope she'll fulfill her ambition at Queen's for psychology. She's not hard to please — likes just about everything. Her fav. sayings are "I doubt it, eh!" and, "Are you kidding?" No we're not. Good luck.

ERNIE JACOBS:

'Jake the Snake' has participated in basketball and football in his five years at Bell, and was actually present when the football team won their first game in four years. He hopes to take a recreation course next year but don't ask him what his ambition is — he doesn't know what the word means! On Friday nights you can find him at the O.H. His favourite saying is "What seems to be the problem?" Well, Ernie, it could have something to do with you not liking the Ottawa Rough Riders!

BRIAN KEANE:

Brian came to Bell from Wasson High and the U. of Colorado. His pursuits at Bell include the Ski Club, Hull Club, Boozeter Club and scholastic achievement (?) His future is in the piece Corps—promoting more and better relationships and prohibiting the platonic kind. If you're a pretty girl that drinks and has a good time, then get in touch with Brian. He doesn't like girls that go with guys away at college. His favourite possession is his Austin Healey.

IAN LAMPTON:

Ian spends half his day driving to Bell from Manotick and the other half driving home again. But he has high hopes anyhow — he wants to go to Carleton for Arts next year and then to a university in Europe. Eventually he hopes to be a philosopher-genius. Another plan is to participate extensively in the population explosion. Well . . . all music and any sort of excitement or fun are Ian's thing, but he'll never let school interfere with his education. His fav. poss. are his VW and his 12 string guitar. He'll never forget the chemistry exam when the fire alarm rang but the teachers told us to burn before we left!

PATRICIA MARK:

Paddy, who is bothered by teachers who think she's a boy, is a student any school would be glad to call their own. Besides being an A student, she has been in interscholastic and intramural sports, prefects, G.A.A., Booster Club, and Yearbook Staff she is also Bell's Clarion columnist this year. Next year it's Honours Arts at Carleton for Paddy, where she hopes to learn enough to teach and to be able to defend Canadian Literature with justification. People who don't give unasked - for advice are tops in Paddy's book and she is also an avid defender of the opposite view. She regrets that she has to leave Bell just when the football team is getting good. (well, better). Her 1969 Campanarius is her fav. Bell keepsake. You will hear her saying: "I don't know" in four languages. We know you will succeed wherever you go, Paddy.

STEPHEN McDERMOTT:

Steve says he tries to forget everything that happened to him at Bell, but he managed to tell us that he'll go either to Carleton or Algonquin. He comes from Toronto Argonauts. He also likes the music of Blind Faith and Cortina GTs. Ottawa sportscasters and Falcons that give him trouble at the wrong times bother Steve, but his fav. poss. is still his Falcon and his Vox Mark VI.

CAROL McLAUGHLAN:

Carol's the one who only comes to school for two hours a day. She came from Bicentennial High in N.S. and Woodroffe. Next year she hopes to attend Centennial College in Toronto and later to help emotionally disturbed children. She likes getting up late and her green turtle, and can be head saying "NO WAY!"

LYNN McNAUGHTON:

Lynn, that "Short, little fat kid", returned to Bell this year from the International School in Brussels. She's been in G.A.A., inter-form floor hockey, band announcing, and basketball team until she got feet and quit just before the first game! Next year you'll find Lynn at Carleton or the free U. of Brussels and eventually she plans to get her $700 back. Pommes frites avec mayonnaise, sunshine, people who smile, and "Saufres" make Lynn happy, but she doesn't like rain, Belgians or people with high marks. She says "I don't believe in it."

DANNIEL MOFFET:

Dan's years at Bell would have been relatively unmarred if it hadn't been for English tests, English essays, English classes. A common lament with Dan is "What's for (English) homework?" He plans to go to Carleton next year to learn how to be a rich architect. He likes MONEY. Dan has been a valuable member of the band which explains his most unforgettable memory — Mr. Biochatti's funeral.

LAUREL OAKES:

Laurel says: "I'm not dumb!" and plans to prove it by going to university next year. She comes from St. Maty's Secondary and Dane Court High in England. How does that grab you? (she says) She likes tall boys, food spares and Paul Newman minies and dislikes short with tall boy-friends, being hungry, working during spares and missing Paul Newman movies. Her most exciting experience at Bell was washing cars for the band.

BEVERLEY PEARCE:

Bev doesn't have much to say, but she wants to go to Ottawa Teachers' College next year. Her fav. poss. is 'Michelangelo.' That's all we know, but good luck anyhow Bev!

DAVID PHILLIPS:

Dave has led a busy life at Bell. He has played in the band, football, soccer, rugger, badminton and intramural sports. He is an easy-going person—he likes everything but turnips and going to a class and finding he didn't have to. Dave is a man of big ideas. His ambition is to become the manager of a swank hotel in the South Pacific. Maybe that's why his swimming pool is his fav. poss. Whoopee donk is his fav. saying and that's what he yelled when he finally reached grade 13. Good luck in the Pacific, Dave!

PENNI STEWART:

Are all people who want to go to Ottawa Teachers' College so quiet? That's all we know about Penni.

ROBERT SHORNE:

DONNA WESTWOOD:

PETER WILKES:

Peter came here from Trinity College School. His activities at Bell include attending classes and attending classes and . . . well, we had to leave a few out, there wasn't room. His ambition is to write someday. He likes good music and dislikes-surprise-bad music. We would say more if we knew more, Peter!

13B

KEITH ADAMS:

Keith's ambition is to ride a kangaroo in Australia. His activities at Bell were intramural sports and the band. His likes are music and Judy Reid. His dislikes are long dresses. He treasures his nymph and is always exclaiming "Wonderful". His most unforgettable memory is of getting a 70 in 12 English Good Luck at R.M.C.

THEODORE BACCHUS:

Ted, Teddy or Theodore — take your pick - likes chemistry and wants to attend Carleton to glean higher knowledge of aforementioned subject. He dislikes English, French, Greek, etc. and looks back gladly on the time when he dropped French!

JAMES BATCHELOR:

Big Batch takes advantage of his long hours at Bell to rest up so he'll be alert for more important pursuits like skiing and girl-watching. He's going to try to take time off from these activities, to attend U.B.C. with a car career in Oceanography in mind. People who say "No You Can't" give Jim a hard time. He can't forget the time when Mr. McGillvray tried to teach us to sing in an assembly!

UDO BOEHME:

Architecture is Udo's bag and after university, he hopes to become world renowned in this field. He likes all things that pertain to the betterment of his health, but is bothered by S.D. Disturber, whatever that is. He says his fav. poss. are his school books, but we're not sure . . . ! We'll be looking for your buildings in a few years, Udo.

PETER BREUER:

Pete heard so much about Bell in Czechoslovakia, that he has to come and see it for himself. He's lived in several countries in Europe and can speak 4 or 5 languages. He wants to study architecture at U. of T. next year and eventually find a 'pretty, intelligent, attractive argument'. His fav. poss. is his Canadian experience—it helps him to eat hamburgers without indigestion! That's a step in the right direction, Pete. Being called Dutch instead of Czech irritates him. Wir wünschen Sie Glück, Peter!

WILLIAM COLEMAN:

Bill says all his previous schools have been better ones than Bell, but we know he's putting us on. His plans are to travel in Europe and then to settle down (?) in Toronto. Wherever he goes though he'll take his Mr. Peanut statue. He likes his mind—it's 'unreal, fantastic'. We hope your future's that way too, Bill.

PATSY DEUGAN:

Patsy's another candidate for Ottawa Teachers' College. She came from high schools in Calgary, and at Bell she's been in the G.A.A. When she's not swimming, she's playing her guitar. We hope you recover from your first report card at Bell!

GEORGE FISZER:

The only activities George partakes in at Bell is euchre in the 13 Lounge. His ambition is to travel that is if he ever gets out of Bell. His likes are the 13 Lounge, euchre, & orgies. He dislikes Bell, and French. His favourite possessions are his drivers licence, money, and his life. His favourite saying is "Always borrow from a pessimist—he never expects it back anyhow!" Hope you make it out of Bell.

JOHN HEGGIE:

Sitting in the car in the rain with a folded ignition bugs John more than anything else, except trying to pass grade 13. He'll stay at Bell until he's champion Euchre player, and then he plans to take Biochemistry at university. He made the rounds to Ellesmere College, Hill crest and Algonquin before he decided that Bell is best. He preaches "Jack of all trades is master of none."

KEN HUGHES-ADAMS:

All the evidence says that Sliderule is a ski fiend. He dislikes summer, wants to attend U.B.C.-to be near Ski Whistler Mountain, wants to ski in the Olympics, his fav. poss. are his skis, AND He can be heard repeating over and over--"Think snow! ! He didn't mention it, but he also excels in math and sciences. Hope for your sake that we have a long winter!

CHRIS KERR:

Chris is the silent type, but we know there's something going on in there because he always manages to get good marks, especially in sciences. His plans, believe it or not, for the future are to get his Doctor of Science degree. His fav. possession is his periodic table. He came to Bell from schools in Winnipeg, and the only thing that mars existence at Bell for him is English. Only one more year of it left Chris!

GLEN MADISON:

Glen is a firm supporter of the "Girl Watchers Anonymous" especially with his ideas on maxi-skirts, dresses, coats and everything else. He enjoys ski-doing and sand dunes and scubadiving in the bathtub! His favourite possession is his pet kangaroo. He plans to go to Ottawa U. Lots of luck.

SUSAN PETTIS:

Work, work, work has kept Sue occupied at Bell since she arrived from Alberta, but she had time to be in the Curling Club. Her plans for next year are uncertain, but eventually she'll travel and then settle down and have a family. She likes sewing, skating, swimming, and O.H.A. junior hockey teams, but wouldn't miss homework on weekends, TV football games, or the long, cold winter at all. A little brown poodle called Tilou has the key to Sue's heart.

13C

BEV. BRANNEN:

Don't tell 'Jolly Green Pea' she's dumb, useless and gutless when you're playing euchre with her or you'll have an enemy. She's been at Bell for five years and has participated in Majorettes, Hi-Y and euchre. She wants to be a Home Ec. Teacher. Her favourite poss. is her poodle Moki, and her fondest (?) memory at Bell is George du Temple.

CATHY CARMEN:

"Red" has done quite a lot at Bell--basketball, skiing and as Mr. Banks would put it--"everything but the academic side of school". Her plans take in college-physiotherapy or biology-romande and adventure. With Cathy it is easier to simply list dislikes--drunks and euchre cheaters. Her favorite possessions are her tow pass and cheque-book. Her favourite saying is "Guess what?" With Cathy you'll have to guess. Good luck.

LORETTA ANNE DOOHER:

L.A. has only been at Bell for one year but already she has been on the basketball team and B.A.A. and has acquired a French education with Mr. Banks. She wants to go to university and eventually teach phys. ed. Other schools include St. Benedict's and Gimli, both in Manitoba. Loretta's pet peeve is miserable weather because all she can do is listen to her radio. Hope you have lots of sunny days!

CHRIS FOX:

Chris has had a busy career at Bell, dividing his time between the smoking area and 13 lounge and making good use of his fav. possession, his pipe. Anything not pertaining to "wine, women and song" is out, but maybe he'll take time off to go to Carleton for science, if he and Mike don't blow up Bell in chemistry class first. When he graduates, he's going to devote all his time to finding an heiress to marry. Good luck, Chris! He won't ever forget watching Mr. Radiff try to tear down a Playboy fold-out stuck outside a classroom window.

DONNA HAMILTON:

Mona has been busy at Bell. In between Student Councillor and Prefecting, she works at the book store. Last year and this, she helped to initiate our Bell uniform and has spent many lunch hours selling the material. Some students' Council members and last years' head girl had help from Donna on their election campaigns and this year she arranged a grade 13 student-principal assembly. Donna keeps Mr. Banks in good form with her French pronunciations. She is an avid skier and seamstress, and looks forward to going to Queens for physiotherapy next year. If you look out the window of the 13 wing about four any day, you'll see her pulling out in her blue Fiat.

ELIZABETH LEROY:

Lizzy says that everything that happened during 5 years at Bell was quite forgettable, but we know differently. She has been a band member since grade 9 and is Vice President this year. She is also an employee of the CAMPANARIUS. Next year she'll be at Guelph for Home Ec. and then she wants to travel. Activities away from Bell include eating pizzas at El Toro's and collecting paraphernalia (?) What would we do without Liz to give Mr. Banks the right answer?

MIKE O'CONNER:

"Hop-a-long" is noted for wrecking his knee in Bell's first football win in four years. He has been a staunch supporter of Bell activities, sports and social, in his five-year career at Bell. He cherishes his one good knee and hopes to find a quick recovery method while studying medicine at Queen's. He dislikes certain library regulations and likes patient fishing partners. He is often heard quoting "That's all right guys, fishing is more fun than drinking anyway."

FRANCOIS PARENT:

Frank spends quite a bit of his time at Bell contemplating the question 'Does or doesn't she?' while playing euchre in the lounge. After university and a trip around the world he'll start a career as an engineer in architecture. He likes basketball, fun, chess and cherries, but laugh at him at your own risk! To remind him of Bell when he's gone he has two grade 13 diplomas. Good work Frank!

CAROL PATTERSON:

Carol came to Bell from Virginia. She has participated in the band, cross-country, track and field, Hi-Y, inter-form sports, science club and wants a career related to science--biology, medicine, nursing. She likes people and boys (what's that supposed to mean?) and especially her own boyfriend at Queen's. The most 'fantabulous' thing that happened to Carol at Bell was having Mr. Banks for two years.

RANDY RITCHIE:

Randy, often referred to as "Rand" is a full-time euchre player at Bell. He plans to tour the world and become a medical-lab technician. His likes are Frank Zappa, Led Zeppelin, Shmir and Mr. Peanut. He dislikes Fudd, orthopedic shoes and pierced ears. His favourite possession is his M.G. Midget and his Mother's and Led Zeppelin L.P.'s. What will Mr. Larson do without Randy for reference?

DIANE SMALES:

Diane came to us this year from Shore Regional High and Ridgemont. She has participated in gymnastics here, but finds most of her time is spent with homework and making people happy. She'd like to be a gym teacher after Bell. Diane likes racing cars, football games, eating, and dancing but doing nothing gets her down. She says 'I wish but I don't think.' We wish you luck in the future Diane.

PAT TURNBULL:

Pat likes the times when she's not at school best, and can't wait to get out of Bell so she can take nursing at Kingston General. If she didn't have her radio and her teddy-bear, she couldn't tolerate teachers who don't know how to teach or trying to get out of the library before the bell rings. 'boy are you smart!' is a common refrain with Pat.

LINDA VON HAGEN:

Linda's another 5 year Bell character who has put a lot into her school. If there was a trophy for the spectator who has supported Bell at more games than anyone else, it would go to Linda for sure. She's taken part in almost all intramural sports and officiated when she wasn't playing. Yearbook staff, lounge committee and Booster Club have taken up the rest of her time. It's university next year for Linda where she'll study social therapy, with art and sewing on the side to keep her busy. Grade 11 Physics was her most traumatic experience at Bell, but even then she managed to say 'Smile--there must be something good about today!' As long as there are people like you around Linda, we'll all be smiling.

PADDY CHANT:

Paddy has fit into Bell with ease. She has contributed to the Lunch Bunch & a little bit to the general mess. Her ambition is to go to college and to be anything but a typical housewife with a B.A. She enjoys Hallowe'en, the woods, jewelry, and animals. Her dislikes are Yearbooks (?) and men who dye their hair.

130

JOHN BUCHANAN:

"Computer" spends his time at Bell with Chess Club and card playing and at home with amateur astronomy, science fiction writing, and girls. He likes science and will probably study it at Carleton next year in preparation for becoming famous someday. Don't worry John, even famous men make spelling mistakes.

FLAVIO ANTONIO BRUTESCO:

"Valentino" is a Fiat representative at Bell and naturally enough his likes are Fiats and Italian girls. He dislikes M.G.B. owners. To quote him "Fiat is better . . . ." The unforgettable thing that happened to him at Bell was meeting Sylvia?! His fav. possession is his guitar. He plans to return to Italy and become a mechanical engineer. Good luck!!

NEIL CAVES:

Neil is another sports enthusiast. His favourite activity is skiing and he was in the Ski Club and team. Most of the winter you'll find him on the slopes. Other activities are wrestling, intramural sports, volleyball, water-skiing and horseback riding and another type of sport--girls. Neil has problems with being confused by the facts.

ALLISON CORNELL:

Red began high school in an all girls class and ended it in an all boys one! But, she's still in one peeve and she hopes to go to Guelph for veterinary medicine next year. She has taken part in inter-form sports, gymnastics, and cross-country at Bell but her mind is usually on her plans for the weekend. At any time of the day (week, month, year) you will hear her asking "What's going on tonight?" Ever heard of homework?

PAUL CUTHBERT:

Mouth's position as Bell's attending genius is taking up so much of his time that he's having trouble achieving passing grades. Oh well, he's not discouraged; he still plans to pass Grade 13 with an 80 % average before going on to R.M.C. He wants to be a star and great at everything. He likes Judy, his record collection and his father's car, and dislikes people who are too high and mighty for their own good. You'll hear him saying "Don't ask me, I just attend school here."

RONALD DARRELL:

Snarl's gone to "just Bell" and his activities have been confined to spectating. His future plans are undecided, but he knows what he likes: Johnny Carson, Jimmy Hendrix and 4:00 P.M.; and dislikes: playing cards in the lounge, 9:05 A.M. His fav. poss. are the keys to the Big XL.

BRIAN DODDRIDGE:

Brian has divided his time between Bell, hunting, golfing and skiing and he avoids anybody under 50 in golf. His favourite possessions are his Fisher superglass skis, and his big Skylark. His activities at Bell consisted of the ski club.

IAN DODGE:

Ian's most unforgettable memory of Bell is joining the Laurentian Band (figure that one out!) He has also been in the Bell Band for 5 years, wrestling team, ski club, soccer, Badminton and rugger. After Oceanography at U.B.C., he wants to join the Red Guard! He likes hardly anything, with a few notable exceptions like his "Bone".

ROD-ENNIS SMITH:

"The Bean" has taken part in football, wrestling, Rochester exchange and intramural sports. His plans for the future are _____ Design at Waterloo and his ambition is to weigh 190 pounds. Sports and original people hold his interest and being past by V.W. infuriates him.

Going to Expo and winning two football games at Bell hold a place in his memory.

CHRIS FALCONER:

Chris has really enjoyed Bell, everything including the 13 lounge, participating in hockey games and football — EXCEPT classes that is. Can't like everything! He values his 4 year old Bell football jacket over all his other possessions. His ambition is to graduate from Bell as a 5 yr. A and S. student in 5 years and then achieve a university degree.

ROBERT HARWOOD:

Rob has been active in football, the Key Club, and the Ski Club. He is notorious for his speeding tickets and Favourite sayings. He enjoys sailing and skiing and lists bears called Rod as his dislike. Rob can usually be found in or around his Hemi-powered Austin.

DAVE HICKMAN:

As can be judged by the length of the write-up, Dave is a man of few words. He dislikes assemblies, enjoys it when teachers are away and lists his green Cadillac as his fav. possession.

DAVID HOPEWELL:

Dave likes used car lots and claims his dislikes wouldn't be printed. Well he knows better than us. The most unforgettable thing that happened to Dave at Bell was giving Mr. Jensen some exercise with a "Cooper S".

MICHAEL KASOUF:

"Mama" is a football player, head boy, and basketball manager. His plans for the future are Toronto U. for dentistry as an orthodontist. He has a definite liking for football, girls, hockey, girls and basketball. I don't think he'll ever forget winning the first two football games in 4 years of Bell's history.

DOUGLAS KENNEDY:

Doug has been active in wrestling, football, curling and ski club at Bell. When he gets out of Grade 13 he'll go to University but won't say where or what for. "Keep smiling - it makes people wonder what you have been up to", he says. What have you been keeping from us, Doug?

JOHN KENNEDY:

John, big # 51 on the Ottawa Sooners, has also played football for the Bruins, and has always been a star with the Bell wrestling team. His favourite possession is his '39 Dodge, "Baby Huey", and he seems to like used car lots and the Ottawa Rough-Riders (don't we all?) also manhandling the Toronto Argonauts.

JOHN PRATT:

John has been at Bell for five years and claims he will never forget coming to it. His likes are girls, money and people with a good sense of humour. He dislikes people lacking a sense of humour, and people who aren't logical. He was a member of the chess club. His favourite possessions are his car and his coin collection. He hopes to go to Carleton for architecture and we wish him the best of luck.

RANDOLPH SHEIK:

Beaver is a member of that radical uprising--THE ANTI-FIAT, PRO-CORVETTE LEAGUE, but don't be alarmed he's peaceful. After university his dream is to own one of those Corvettes he talks about and to finally reach the high intellectual stage of being able to say "He laughed his intestinal fortitude out", instead of that other uneducated saying. He came from St. John's High and Rideau and brought with him his dislike of "Bad" people, discrimination, vanity and snobbery. He likes "Good" (Bell) people, Corvettes and some girls. Where can we join the A.F.P.C., Randy?

JAMES STEVENSON:

Secret Sam, an alumni of Mrs. Grundy's Private Kindergarten, won't tell us his activities at Bell, but he gave it away when he said he liked "good music, good food, nice girls and electrical components". (?). He plans to study electrical engineering at Queen's and later to have a private lab at Northern Electric. His fav. Poss. are his two stereo systems and hypocrites and high insurance rates bug him. He'll never forget the time Mr. Radiff tried to kill him after he shot his white shirt with a water pistol of disappearing ink that took too long to disappear.

JOHN TURNBULL:

SHAUN TYMCHUK:

Shaun, whose ambition is to take up the torch, is cautious where plans for the future are concerned and says he'll wait until after Christmas exams before making rash decisions! He left King's High in Nova Scotia to attend good ol' Bell where he has played football and been a member of the B.A.A. Shaun stays away from girls who are bigger than him but pass him in the hall and he'll always say hello. His most valued possession is his second effort. He'll never forget the way Mr. Biolcati directed the Band.

13E

DEBORAH ALLEN:

Debbi indulges in French, German, English and Biology at Bell and has several plans for the future. She's easy to get along with—likes almost everything and dislikes nothing. Her comments can be summed up easily. 'I don't know and I don't care.' Oh well . . .

MARGARET BETTS:

Marg, who is often heard saying 'C'est la vie', has been involved in the Hi-Y and Ski Club during her Bell Career and also participated in most intramural sports. She likes almost everything—salami and Oka cheese, grand pianos, the seashore, Scottish assents, dreamers and Steve McQueen, but hates vegetating bridges, pink shirts, hypocrites, and telephone conversations. She plans to go to Queen's for Arts then change the world! Her Fav. Poss. are her cats—Rainbow, Oinky and Blackie.

WENDY BIDDISCOMBE:

S.D. or Yee-Yee can always be found merry-making at S. Ding at Bell; (and everywhere else). Her plans for the future are as sonotation engineer first Presidentess of Quebec. The interval of 1965-69 was all unforgettable for Wendy—and her teachers and other students. Her favourite saying sums her up well: "4 o'clock and all's well, grab your coat and run like —!!"

PETER BROUSSEAU:

Pete-Boot-the Ball, has been at Bell for five years and in that time he has played four years of football and three years of hockey. He has been a big spirit booster at Bell and we hope he does make it as an N.H.L. announcer with Danny Gallivan at the Forum in Montreal. He enjoys kicking a football, girls with long hair and parties where everyone is drunk but him. He dislikes liquor, beer and smoking. His favourite possession is his green running shoes, and his favourite saying "It's the physical-". The most unforgettable thing that happened to him at Bell is this year's pen assembly where his memorable performance as Jean Belliveau and then as a member of the Ball Points has everyone in stitches. He has put a lot into Bell and we hope he got as much out of it.

JANE CAMPBELL:

Jane, "the—one" has been active in quite a few activities at Bell—yearbook, Hi-Y, prefects, Students' Council, and the Sound of the Bell. She's off to Carleton for history or journalism next year. Her ambition is to become an archeologist and dig up Athens. She enjoys car races, Mr. Banks French classes, music and driving. Her great dislike is ice.

EARL CARVER:

Earl, a dedicated 5 year Bell student, plans to do whatever he feels like when he leaves, as long as he has a good time. With this in mind, he has been practising by pulling up to the school in his blue Mustang every morning ten minutes after English class has started! He likes his Mustang, and girls, but strangely enough, dislikes the Bell Christmas Dance 1968 and the Nepean Police. Is this significant?!

ANNE FISHER:

Hi-Y and inter-form sports have kept Anne occupied since she arrived at Bell from LaSalle Secondary in Sudbury. She'll be another Carletonite next year but her real ambition is to travel. She spends those cold Ottawa winters reading, eating gourmet foods and contemplating boys. Her Oompik is her fav. poss. Keep warm, Anne!

DAVE HARWOOD:

ATTILA HORVATH:

Attila's nickname is (you guessed it) the Hun. When he's not bugging Mrs. Jeays, he plays cards, chess and basketball, and lounges or thinks about Eve. He is from Wookroffe, but has overcome this handicap and will attend Waterloo next year for Physics. Being henpecked bothers him and he takes it out on his fav. poss. his guitar. He seems to have a thing about thinking-it's his ambition. His fav. saying is "Always thinking Who always thought Was thinking of."

CHRIS JONES:

Chris came to us from Woodroffe this year. He claims he's a football hero, and general, all-around celebrity, but he hasn't got much ambition past that. His favourite possession is a Montreal Expo cap autographed by George Knudson. His fav. saying is "Bull Feathers" and Mrs. Jeays cringes everytime she hears the expression, which announces his presence. His probable destination is a English teacher.

MYRNA LAW:

Myrna, who came from Belleville, has been in the Ski Club, prefects and Hi-Y-she's president this year. Next year she plans to go to university for journalism, and in a few years we'll be reading her first best-seller novel. She likes a beautiful mind, easy Eastern living, yellow dogs, Nate's hot smoked meat on rye and pride, and dislikes the false front, clean jeans, bare walls and trivia. Her fav. poss. is Rudy. Myrna's philosophy of life is 'To thine own self be true.'

JACKIE McDERMOTT:

"Hey Jack" is probably best known as this year's head girl at Bell. In her years here, she has participated in the Red Cross Club, U.N. Club, Prefects, and the Yearbook Staff. She is associated with selling the ill-fated Bell plaid. Jackie likes Rimbaud, the Hollies, the Who Rock Concert album, books, the Dragon and the Tai. She plans to attend Carleton Journalism and hopes to be independent and to write a book (probably independently). Good luck, Jack!

CHRISTOPHER MURPHY:

Murph, who came to Bell from Eganville D.H.S. participates in 13 lounge euchre-playing and F.I.D. He's interested in aviation and wants to get his commercial license when he has the money. His fav. poss. are his YAMAHA 180, his pilot's license and his Soviet propaganda posters. You'll know it's Chris if he's disparaging 'dumb blondes in math class', or euchre cheaters or saying 'Hold your water!' Murph's most unforgettable memory of Bell is J. Secord's still in Chem. class.

JUDY REID:

Jude has indulged in most every activity you name it-basketball, volleyball, badminton, G.A.A., prefects, Hi-Y. Another 5 year girl, she's for Bell, Bell, Bell. She hopes to get all her homework done at least once and if she ever does, she plans to go on to university. Boys are her likes AND dislikes. Her fav. poss. is her doggie and if you hear someone going 'Clunk, clunk, clunk . . .', beware, it's Jude. She'll be remembered forever for the commotion she made when a ref. walked in while they were changing for a basketball game. (also known for making sound effects in German class!)

KIRK ROBINSON:

DAVID WILLIAMS:

Dave, who's well-known around Bell as the "Star" claims he has done everything there is to do at Bell. We'll try to believe him but some of his teachers may be hard to convince! His likes and dislikes can be summarized in one phrase "No one in particular right now." His fav. poss. are his Adidas running shoes which have won many races for him and his skates. His fav. quote is "So what?" He claims he'll always have nightmares of Mr. Almstedt hitting a deer on the way back from a provincial cross-country Finals. Altogether he's brought quite a few trophies back to Bell with his running and we wish him luck at Carleton next year.

13F

MIKE BARKER:

GERALD BERRIGAN:

Gerry's life at Bell has been spent in the pursuit of happiness in any way, shape, or form. With this in mind he spends a lot of his time in the 13 lounge playing euchre. He also likes "girls, girls, girls" and his fav. poss. is his electric guitar. He would like to buy a B.S.A. lightening and drive it into the ground, and his long-time ambition is to receive his Grade 13 diploma by 1972. Good luck! He comes from St. Alphonsus High in Chapeau, Quebec, and he'll never forget Bell mainly because it took him 3 days to find home room! Gerry's words to live by are "Go to Hull."

ELLEN CORNELL:

JANE FOY:

Mind--has spent her life moving around and her schools are too numerous to list. Her activities at Bell include her patronage of the Smoking area and lounge and classes. She plans to go to College and hopes to get a degree, husband, kids, to own a $40,000 house in the suburbs, learn to play bridge and mix a good martini. (Are you putting us on Jane?) She enjoys lunching with five friends, Hallowe'en, jewellery and nature. Her fur coat, Joe the Muskrat, is her fav. poss. and we couldn't decipher her fav. saying. She ends with trying to forget everything that happened to her at Bell and we end hoping that in the future she'll find something that she wants to remember!

SUE COLES:

RUTH GEDDES:

A class of Grade 9's won't forget Roouth easily after she and Sue concluded their "information about your school" speech by walking into the closet. Despite this evidence to the contrary, she really does know her way around the school as she has shown by her performance in track and field, cross-country, intramural sports, G.A.A. and prefect society. She is a loyal Bell hockey fan, and also likes other sports, Christmas spirit, the Central Canadian Exhibition, and her Shaggy Green Giant Foot rug. She steers clear of cigarette smoke and would like to avoid exams and school too! Her doctrine is "If you're to busy to have fun, then you're TOOOO busy". Hope your never TOOO busy, Roouth.

BILL LEDGERWOOD:

"Bilius" compliments of C.C. is an occasional student at Bell. He plans to get out of 13, bum around a little, and then become a president of a breweries. Bill likes Hull, girls, and cars. He doesn't like prudes, warm draft, or quiet parties. His favourite possession is a 1933 Chev. His favourite saying is "Slope off and Bottoms up." Bill's most unforgettable day was the day he lent Ellen Cornell his car, Says Bill "A four-speed and Ellen don't mix. Lot's of luck Bill but just remember you said president not cheif taster.

STEPHEN LEPPARD:

Steve alias "Mama's Boy" or "Bopper" has also played football throughout the years at Bell. His favourite sayings are "You swine" and "I was enraged". When consulting "friends" we decided his likes consisted of himself and dislikes people who didn't like him. His favourite poss. is his sideburns.

DONNA MacEACHERN:

Donna, who is often heard saying, "Oh shut up!", says she hates spending weekends at home and loves parties. She plans to become an R.N. or a chemistry teacher and then marry someone who will bring up the children while she works. One thing she will always remember about Bell is her first report.

DEBORAH McBURNEY:

Deb has participated in many activities here at Bell, sports especially and she's your athletic rep. this year on Council. Her plans for the future are divided between nursing and K.J. in B.C. (how's that for a code!) She dislikes 3,000 miles, working on weekends and getting up, but her pink mouse with elephant ears makes up for all that. "Take it easy" she advises.

GUY PRINCE:

Guy is a man of few words, but he admits that he has plans for the future, has attended several schools besides Bell, likes everything and dislikes nothing. His fav. expresion is 'sacre bleu'. He's another one of the football heros who still haven't recovered from winning their first game in four years, and has often been on Bell's stage with the Lychester Square.

MARK ROBINSON:

DIANA SURKAN:

If you want to be convinced about something, see Diana--she probably wouldn't do it herself but she'd be glad to inspire you! After curling, spectating and WORK at Bell she wants to train to be another Florence Nightingale, but she'll take time out for Ottawa 67's hockey games. Pig 'n Whistle and homework are both on her black list. Her fav. poss. is Skeeter. Good Luck in the future, Flo!

WENDY TURNER

GRANT YOXON:

Grant says he'll never forget going to Bell. Is that good or bad? He likes his jeans, but not much else, and dislikes 'much more.' A grade 9 Glebite, he wants to go to Cambrian College in North Bay for Communication Arts. His ambition is to go down instead of up.

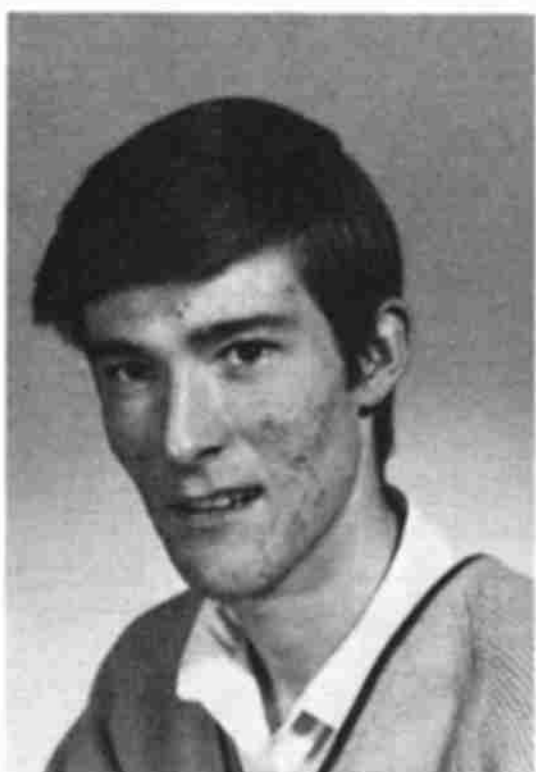

BARRY KEANE:

Barry came all the way from Colorado Springs to pursue 'happiness, love and liberty' at Bell in his last year. Warm beer and platonic relationships aren't for Barry, but French girls and the Gatineau definitely are! His words of wisdom are: 'Don't let the meatloaf!'

I think Bob likes sports. He's been involved with B.A.A., Cross-country, track and field, hockey, badminton AND next year he wants to take Phys. Ed. at Waterloo. His ambition is to be another Chet Kincaid. In his spare time he sails, water skis and likes to drive the Porche, or his favorite, hydroplane called Flipper. He'll never forget baking cakes on stage to raise money for the hockey team.

WANDA BROWN:

Wanda can't wait to leave assiduity, hard work and utter confusion at Bell to move to a farm in the country. There she won't be bothered by being awakened from semi-consciousness in the middle of classes and she and her favorite possession, her dog, can grow cannibus to their Hearts' content. She claims cannibus is not hazardous to your health, but your police force is armed and dangerous. That farm had better be way out in the country, Wanda!

BARB BURNS:

Barb is a real school-spirit girl. She has been a cheerleader for five years and has faithfully supported our teams at just about every football and hockey game. She is also a two year Student Council member and this year organized our United Appeal Campaign. Other activities include prefects and lounge committee, indulging in school spirit, and skiing. Tiny is new at Bell this year from the Northwest Territories. Activities at Bell include finding his way around the school! Good luck with your trees!

KEITH KIPP

DAVE LANE:

She was in the campus Life Club, and at home spends her time dancing, skiing or listening to records with her boyfriend. Believes it or not, she dislikes exams, homework and boring classes. We're all with you Jan!

The Sea Beckoning

So you think your parents hate you and your playmates ignore you?

Sad life for you, young one.

I like you and I greet you with the crashing clapping of my many hands;

My invisible fingers twirl in your sunshine hair.

My million eyes do not deceive me; I see a salty tear drop at my feet.

Do not think you are alone in the world;

You have a gigantic friend here who is part of the world and has seen it all.

Unshackle yourself from your wicked parents and your so called 'friends.'

Unshackle yourself from the heavy earth and come to the lightness and freedom that is me.

I accept you, see?

Look, my advancing fingers touching your feet and wetting the bottom of your ragged clothing.

I accept you, see? Look at yourself.

You are a part of me; your eyes are deep blue like my limitless horizons;

Your hair like the purest sand; your lonely tears, my blood.

Do not stand there when I call to you.

There are many hidden friends beneath my peaceful surface.

I can bring forgetfulness, bliss.

I see your mind. Do not fear;

You do not want cold nights, lonely days, ragged clothes, friendless hours.

Come to me, come with me and I'll show you,

A world that no one has seen; it is reserved for your eyes only.

That's right; take another step.

Do not look back! Take another step!

Forget all earthbound people.

And another.

Remember the ancient sea sound of old; it rings in your ears;
it is natural; it is a part of you.

Come back to the ancient; it is from where you first stepped.

Feel my warm blood around you; it is a part of you, and forever will be.

You cannot escape me now.

I have you firmly.

And as I pull you under and toward the deep of my heart;

I know and you know that I have recaptured another of my long lost children.

Nikki Nash 1983

Nikki Nash

"Who are you?" I asked.
 It did not answer; it was an enigma.
 "Are you good?", I asked.
 "I am," it said. "I allow suffering, death, sorrow, hunger, cruelty and war....but I am."
 "Are you powerful?" I asked.
 "I am." It said, "Comfort the poor, the beggars, the humble. I govern the flowers and the birds. I care for the sick and the dying....But I am powerful."
 "Are you strong--could you wage a war?" I asked.
 "I could." It said. "I have no weapons, no bombs, no guns, no strength of limbs....But I am strong."
 "You are good yet bad, powerful yet humble, strong yet weak....
 Who are you?"
 "I?" said the enigma, "I am God."

Lest we forget.
 We have forgotten.
 We, the ancestors, the fellow men,
 We have forgotten.
 Time passes quickly and is soon...
 Forgotten
 By us
 But by those things that live for eons
 Time and events
 Pass slowly and are to be...
 Remembered.
 The beaches remember....
 Remember when they were littered
 With torn and mutilated bodies
 And saturated with blood.
 The clouds remember...
 Remember when bombers and fighters
 Sought the protection of
 Their shielding layers of white.
 The stillness remembers...
 Remembers when it was shattered
 By the cries of the dying,
 The droning of the planes,
 The rattle of the guns
 They remember suffering, pain, sorrow, death
 They remember....
 War.

Nancy Flood

"tread softly because you tread on my dreams"

who will personify
 the dawn for me
 and disperse the milkweed mist that hangs in longing over the fields of my mind hiding the stubble of my evergreen dreams
 and sheltering the dew
 of every night's pain

One man.
 He has no friends,
 Hates his job,
 Needs an end
 To the means.

Little stones
 Seem like boulders,
 A heavy load
 For his shoulders
 In this world.

Carol Patterson

A young, yet constantly growing Canada
 Pulses within its half empty frame.
 The land, the produce, the people, the cities and towns,
 All keep time with the flexing of her muscles.
 The prairie wheat sways with the rythm;
 The picks in the mines, and the machines in the factories beat out the time;
 The northern rivers send their waters for power in a steady flow, creating a background for the music of industry.
 Canada, a young and bountiful nation, prospers, grows, and gradually fills out its frame.

 anniversary of confederation

TRAP NOT MY MIND

His loneliness pleads some escape:
Darkness breathes silence, and silence
Leaves him to cry as a child
In the depths of his unbearable yearning
For something moderate, something meek, something mild
To soften remoteness, and allow him to turn
From the black folds of this threatening cape.

Distinct memories flood his vulnerable soul
With currents of passion unknown before
To drown the dead numbness on his legs,
And the sound of fear on his ears -
Falling rocks, loose earth - and he begs
Relief. He screams with mad tears:
What God lets him rot in this hole.

Those moments of misery die now
He drags deep on his last cigarette,
Content that its familiar grasp
Reaches deep down in his body and calms him.
He waits as his thoughts touch a past
Of wrongs, almost forgotten so dim,
To make right, but he does not know how.

And like the man he must be, he tries
To steady tense nerves, and quiet
A need for that which is human
And real. Crouched in his sooty solitude,
Questions of worth carelessly run
Through a mind facing death. His mood
Challenges strength and fails, he cries.

WAYSIDES

I, like the wind should be free
I am not
You, like the waters should run deep
You cannot
We like the birds should fly high
No, we are clipped

We are encased in past dimensions
We who fight for freedom are left in the forgotten waysides
We, but not our cause
For on go the crusaders in search of what we seek

And when falls the standard from our failing hand
They raise it high, dirty but proud from past crusades
Borne up to the promised land.

MY FAT BEHIND

Light is bright, dark as night
Through the misty fog I see
Someone there is seeking me
I hide and hope he does not find,
Traces of my fat behind.
Dark as well, hot as Hell
Through the misty fog I see,
Someone has discovered me
Through the misty fog I find,
Someone's found my fat behind.

A small boy sits on a park bench.
Alone.
The other boys shun him.
He does not know why.
He is frustrated.
He is black.

A young man struggles in a seething mob.
He thinks he knows all the answers now.
He is striking out.
He is violent.
He is black.

An old man sits on a park bench.
Alone.
Violence did not help;
But neither did we.
He is now too old and tired
To be frustrated.
He is black.

A child is born.
It blinks in the light
And is received into the arms
That will cherish it.
It wails its first wail, drinks its first milk,
Has its first taste of life.
A child is born.
It is the gift of a man and a woman
To each other
And of both to God.

Another child is born.
Born out of the sin of others.
It is rejected.
It wails its first wail, but receives no milk.
It has its last taste of life.
A child
Born?

Nancy Flood.

Is a joke a joke?
Is a practical joke, really practical?
What is a practical joke?
What is a joke?
How far will it go?
How long will it last?
Will it stop?

Are not all of our lives,
And is not our society and way of life
A practical joke?
Are you a joke?

I'm not laughing.
So you grin.
So the others grin around you.
You are all laughing,
Hilariously laughing.
I'm not laughing.
I can't.
You made me this way.
You made yourselves,
And you will destroy yourselves.

I have been rejected.
I can't laugh.
I have the advantage though.

Your life is a one way mirror.
You are on the inside,
And you are trapped.
You are caught up in the practical joke,
And you love it.
You love the suspense, the murder, the enjoyment.
You love the sight of the ghetto,
Seen from your home.

You love the war.
The sight of blood makes your
Whole body thrive with joy.
The sight of your bayonette,
Sinking into another's heart.
It gives you the privilege of another badge;
And you love it.

I'm not laughing.
I can't.

Soon, through your own doing,
You will break your mirror.
You will smash it to tiny molecules,
And you will flow with new life.
You will flow all around me until we become one.
Your practical joke will be over.
You won't laugh.
You won't be able to.
You will be me.

I will sit on the outside
of my two way mirror,
And we will look in.
We will see a new practical joke in the creation.
We will see the poverty again,
The poor again, the hungry,
The dying, the dead;
And yet again.
It's like a trance, unending.
Again and again, and again.
We aren't laughing.
We can't.
Why do you laugh?

YEARBOOK STAFF

BOTTOM, Left to Right: Jane Campbell, Linda Von Hagen, Pat Turnbull, Anita Latulippe, Jeff Hardy.

SECOND ROW: Jane Hamilton, Jo-Anne Porter, Paddy Mark, Suzanne Hall, Helen Douglas, Peg Peebles, Terri Peters, Gail Beggs, Liz Le Roy, Bruce Field.

CLOCKWISE AROUND TOP, Standing: Lauri Venhola, Adele Cummings, Jenny Radley, Bill Douglas, Lesley Mitchell, Bruce Baker, Brenda Buchanan, Colin White, Brian Wheeler.

In planning this yearbook, I had only one goal: to make everything different. The result, I think, is cover-to-cover original, and more important, cover-to-cover Bell. Not following any established patterns created more work than often seemed necessary, and without the willing help of so many workers, it would have been impossible. Thanks to the people who were always ready to give up their time to the 'hole', things just fell into place and all the deadlines were met.

There were two aspects of the yearbook which I started this year and which I especially hope will continue. The first is the creativity section, incorporating poetry, photography and art. While we weren't exactly swamped with entries, what we did get is of a high quality, and I hope shows the potential of such a section. The second is the cover contest. Julie White's striking design is a feature unique to our yearbook.

Thanks again to all typers, advertisers, salesmen, Mr. Zambonini, and most of all, the workers who made the book.

Bill Douglas,
Editor.
