GREENBANK SENIOR PUBLIC SCHOOL

OTTAWA

THE EDITOR'S MESSAGE

How many times will you leaf through this book and remember Greenbank this year? Probably often, for a Yearbook is something precious to remember by. Years from now, when we look back at our times at Greenbank, they will be something exciting and wonderful.

When you are 20, or 40, or even 60, how many of the classmates you know so well today will you remember? No matter how few you may be able to name, the most significant fact will be if you can recall your youth - "The most precious years of our lives."

We, the Yearbook staff, are delighted with Greenbank's first real Yearbook. Together with the Student Free Press, it has indeed been a successful year. Our only wish is that this success will be equalled or passed by the students of Greenbank in the years ahead.

THE PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

"The time has come," the Walrus said,
"To speak of many things.
Of shoes and ships and sealing wax
And cabbages and kings."

Lewis Carroll

In this delightful, little poem, a Walrus and a Carpenter demonstrate the value of good conversation, whether it be related to business or pleasure.

School should be like a conversation - a sort of dialogue, where among friends and fellow students, ideas and information are exchanged and the fun involved only adds to the interest.

If you, as the Walrus suggested, can "speak of many things", then, the time spent at Greenbank has been worthwhile. If Greenbank School has given you memories as well as knowledge; if it has broadened your horizons or given you a new outlook on life, then, the conversation has been an important one.

Less than one year ago, Greenbank was still only a name on a sign board. Today, I am happy to say, it is one of the more respected and progressive schools in the Ottawa area. Much of the credit for Greenbank's meteoric success must be attributed to you - the pupils. In each of the many enterprises we have attempted, you have played a major role. The confidence, concern and responsible attitude which most of you have developed will be great assets to you in later life.

Yes, we could "speak of many things" which have happened at Greenbank this year - of special projects, interesting electives, sports programs, student council activities, school spirit week, and so on. But, do we need to speak of memories? Some day in the future, when you are grown men and women, I hope that you will leaf through this, our first yearbook, and recall with fond memories, your short stay at Greenbank School.

Many thanks to all students and teachers for making this first year such a memorable one.

CHOIR DIRECTOR - Mrs. V. Thompson

The Greenbank Choir - Kim Seely's version of "Something to Sing About"; Malotte's "Lord's Prayer", and Bach's "For the Beauty of the Earth" were performed by the Choir on the official opening night of Greenbank School. After Christmas, the Mixed Choir was divided into separate Girls' and Boys' Choirs. On Feb. 26th each Choir performed with Band accompaniment. We are looking forward to our own concert on May 28th at Laurentian High School. I am sure every student has enjoyed the efforts put forth by Mrs. Thompson and her Choir - they have made our school year more fulfilling.
